Definition of Medal Play

Stroke play, also known as medal play, is a golf format in which the total number of strokes is counted over one, or more rounds, of 18 holes. In stroke play, the winner is the player who has taken the fewest strokes over the course of the round, or rounds.

In handicapped competitions, the players would subtract their handicaps from the total (gross) score to generate their net scores, and the player with the lowest net score is the winner.
